

The Guilford Library Association Annual Meeting and Program

Guess Who's Coming to the Library?

---

Thursday, October 22, 2009
7:30—8:30 pm
Guilford Free Library
67 Park Street, Guilford

This year, following its brief Annual Meeting, the Guilford Library Association (GLA) will host the father of American Independence and the second president of the United States, John Adams. This historical figure, portrayed by George Baker, will present his views of the nation, history and family life. He'll be dressed in the clothes he would have worn as President of the United States (1797-1801) and he will take your questions.

This lively program will appeal to all ages — this is definitely not the John Adams you thought you knew! Come join us for an entertaining living history lesson.

The brief annual meeting of the Guilford Library Association will be held just before the program, at 7:30 pm. At this meeting, new GLA Board of Directors members are nominated and elected. Anyone who has contributed to the 2009 Books & More Fund is eligible to vote. Other business may also be conducted. The meeting and program (starting at 7:45) are free and open to all.
